Foreword

Because of the wealth of Indian lore which Woburn possesses, we have decided to keep the motif of The Innitou (The Looking Glass) in Indian style. Thus our dividers feature the early inhabitants of our city in all their strength and character as they might have been portrayed in days of yore.

Together with our advisers we have enjoyed working for the success of our Yearbook and we sincerely hope that it will serve as a source of pleasure to our classmates for many years to come.

Dedication

DORIS T. LYNCH

LOUISE S. MAWN

This issue of the INNITOU would never have been a success were it not for the many afternoons of hard work and helpful guidance afforded us by our kind advisers. We shall always remember the many hours of patient assistance in our behalf. We, the class of Nineteen Fifty, therefore, take pleasure in dedicating this issue to Miss Doris T. Lynch and Miss Louise S. Mawn as a small token of gratitude.

J. FRANK HASSETT

To the Members of the Senior Class:

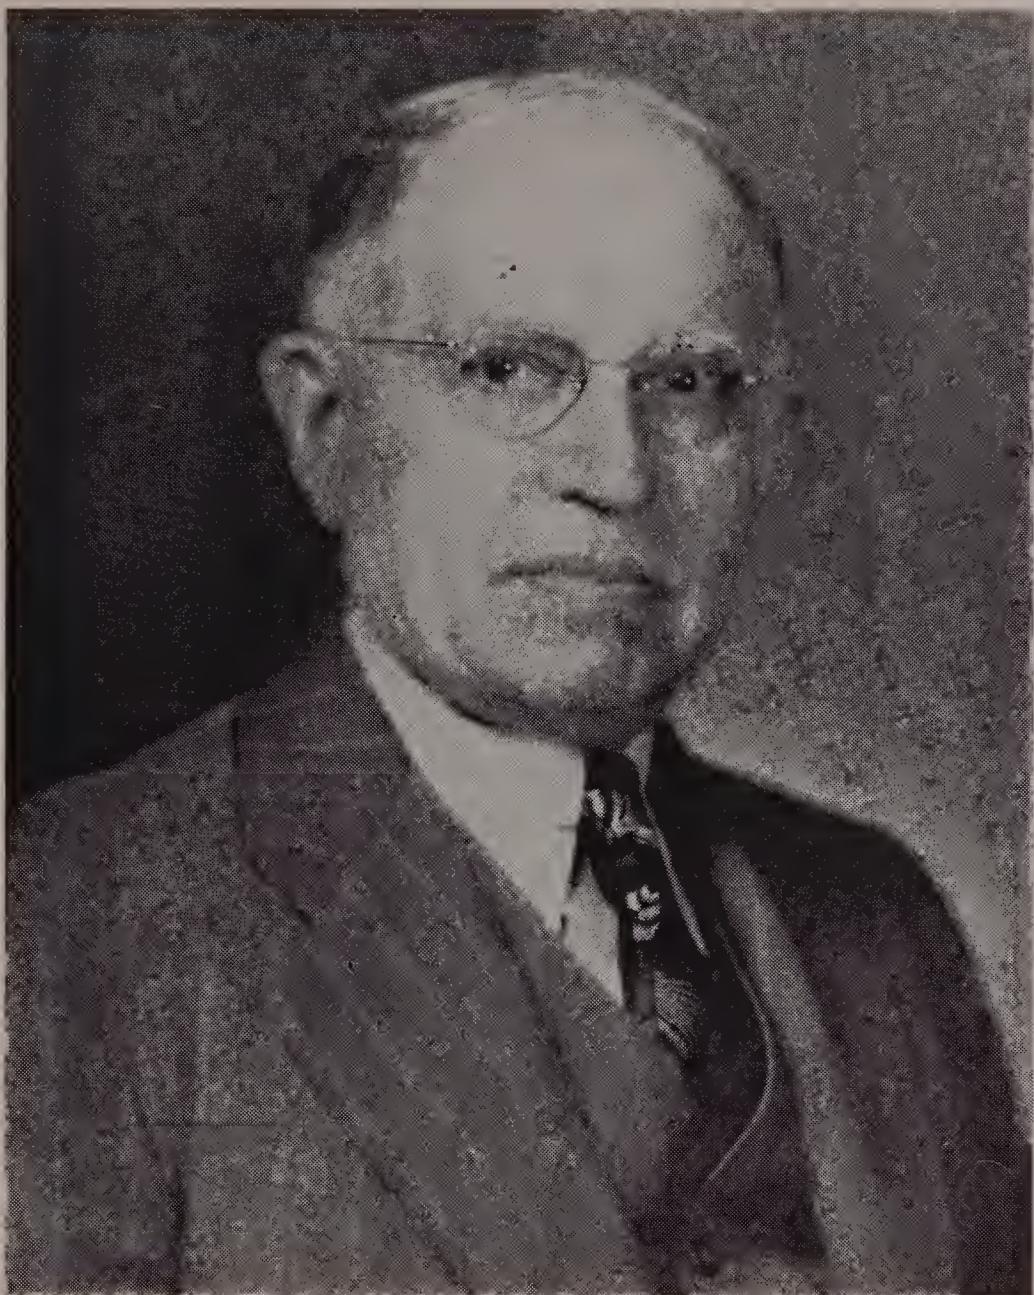

The Age of Security has arrived in our country. Federal and State Laws now require all working citizens or their employer, and in some cases both, to set aside a small portion of their earnings for security in their old age.

Some of you will continue your education in September at schools of higher learning; others among you will enter immediately into the competitive field of employment. You will be told about Social Security Withholding, Labor Union Membership, Blue Cross Health Insurance, U. S. Savings Bonds, etc., which will be withheld from your salary wherever you work. Although these withholdings will lower your take home salary, all are worthwhile benefits which will later help to guarantee security should you become ill, unemployed, or eventually reach the compulsory retirement age.

Lest we forget, we do live in a Modern City, a Progressive Commonwealth, and a County which has God's Blessing. Opportunities are numerous, and your chances for success in life are excellent.

Congratulations to you, and to your Parents upon your completion of your high school course.

J. Frank Hassett
Superintendent of Schools

OREL M. BEAN

I am very happy to extend to you my sincere congratulations upon your graduation from Senior High School. It is my hope that you will consider this only a step in the process of education and that you may have the desire and opportunity to continue the work well started.

Today as never before there is a great demand for leadership of high quality and integrity. Your opportunities for worthwhile achievement are unlimited. You have the courage, the imagination, and energy of youth in one of the most interesting periods of history, and you should view the years ahead with optimism. By continued study you should prepare yourselves to take part actively as informed and responsible citizens in the solution of social, economic, and political problems of community, state, and nation.

You will do well to remember that it is character which will determine the extent of your individual success. Therefore, dare to be fine, true, and upright in all that you do.

Your Yearbook is a marked achievement. We rejoice with you in its success. As you turn its pages through the years, memories of happy days at Woburn Senior High School will give you great enjoyment.

We have all found pleasure in working with and helping you while you have been in high school, and we shall look forward to any further service we may render. May you yourselves find the satisfaction in achievement that comes with hard work and honest endeavor.

May good health and prosperity attend you and the years ahead be happy ones.

Life's like the tides that from some unknown deep
Rush in with surging, straining sweep
To beat a little while upon earth's rocky crests.
But, when their youthful energy is spent, they tire
Of being buffeted and rent,
And slip silently away, to sleep upon
Some quiet ocean's breast.

DONALD ROGER BUTLER

In Memoriam

Evening winds blow soft and warm
When the sky is lighted with silvery gold,
And lullaby whispers creep through the breeze
Bringing illusions of sagas untold.

One Thousand Nineteen Hundred and Fifty.

THE CLASS OF 1950

Our Prayer

by
Thomas John Galvin, Jr.

Teach us, O Lord, that we may know
The evil from the good.
Teach us to live with every man
In peace and brotherhood.

Help us, O Lord, that we may take
The bitter with the sweet.
Help us to reach the victory
That lies beyond defeat.

Guide us, O Lord, that we may live
In truth and modesty.
Guide us that we may worthy be
To serve and follow Thee.

Class Song

Tune: Love's Old Sweet Song
Rita Vallance

Though we depart from these familiar halls,
We shall remember all our happy past.
Sad are our thoughts at leaving friends behind—
Friends who have ever been both good and kind.
Now as life's door is open to our dreams
We shall be guided by your star's bright beams

Woburn High, we love you,
Friends and teachers dear;
And in mem'ry always,
We shall keep you near.
Now as time grows closer,
We shall breath a sigh,
As we sadly bid you
Our last goodbye—
Our last fond goodbye.

OREL M. BEAN

The wisdom of the past combined with the reality of the present tends to give a vision of the future. Thus Woburn High School has been very fortunate in having as a principal for the past thirty three years (1917-1950) a man who has exhibited just those qualities. Mr Bean has been a friend and counsellor to all the students who have attended this school throughout the years.

Having been appointed to the faculty of the school in 1910, he taught for seven years before assuming the duties of principal. There are many graduates of the school who knew him not as a principal but as a teacher, and we feel sure that they also will recall his many kind deeds and his keen interest in each student.

In the future when we reflect upon our high school days, we shall remember a dominant personality whose first interest was always the welfare of his school and the students in it.

Appreciation

The members of the "Innitou Staff" acknowledge with deepest appreciation the help that we have received from all our loyal supporters whose efforts have made it possible for us to have this lasting memento to our high school days.

Our principal, Mr. Bean, our office secretary Mrs. Gillespie, and our faculty advisers, Miss Burke, Miss Lynch and Miss Mawn have given unlimited time in our behalf and we owe much of our success to them.

The patrons and advertisers have made the book a financial possibility and we hope that you will "Make actions speak louder than words" by patronizing them whenever possible.
